

Dear Kathleen Sebelius, HHS Secretary,

We are pleased to present you with this petition affirming one simple statement:

"Please DENY Michigan's request to wait three years to require insurance companies to spend at least 80 cents on the premium dollar for ACTUAL MEDICAL CARE (as required by the Affordable Care Act starting this year). Michigan consumers deserve the $53 million in rebates in their pockets, not in the pockets of insurance companies.!"

Attached is a list of individuals who have added their names to this petition, as well as additional comments written by the petition signers themselves.

Sincerely,
Gwen Williams

Americans need better health care. Insurance companies make huge profits which should not go to bonus and big salaries for executives, but to the health and wealth of those paying the premiums and needing the financial help. Requesting a delay is another attempt to rob the poor and middle class of their rights. Health care costs have risen way too much, profiting big business, not the people needing health care.

I cannot think of any reason this money should be delayed. I understand administrative overhead but with the dollars going out in insurance premiums I would think that would be adequate. Insurance companies think pharmacies should be able to survive on reimbursements of less then 10% so why not the insurance companies themselves? Reap what you sow. Pamela Sadler RN, BSN, CN, D.Hom

I endorse the concept of spending 80% or 80 cents on the dollar on actual medical care. The idea of health reform is create affordable health care and reduce health care costs. Part of reducing health care costs is to reduce unnecessary cost including inflated profits to insurance companies. Let's get serious about reform and reign in the insurance companies, who by the way, cut services to keep profits high. Say no to the insurance companies.

As broken as Michigan's economy is and the people's wallets are. This is money they really need to keep. This will also help stimulate the economy when people have a few more bucks to spend on their families and living expenses versus falling deeper into debt. Insurance companies have been getting over on the sick for FAR too long. Now it's time to give back what they were hoarding all along!

Dear Secretary Sebelius, Michigan has done enough to its citizens over the past two years than to be brutalized by yet another government entity siding with big business. By granting this waiver, you are yet again telling the people of Michigan that the government there is not accountable to the voting public and can do what it wishes to do. It further flames people wanting to change, but is that always a change for the better? Deny this request and show the citizens of Michigan that they can at least trust the federal government to uphold voted law.

Insurance companies have had their way long enough. Our insurance has gone up again this year & I know the executives are taking in more than their share. I hope the employees are paid fairly. In these financially difficult times that Michigan has endured longer than other states, the people who have to pay the increases or do without insurance need all the help they can get.

I'm not surprised at this attempt to deny Michigan Citizens fairness in the insurance market. Rather than stand up for its citizens this Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation is apparently in the pocket of those it is supposed to regulate. Just another sign of how corporate greed manipulates our citizens. Why wait three years? The answer is simple--Keep the insurance industry very profitable and wait out the 2012 Presidential election with hopes that the "Affordable Care Act" is rescinded and thus it would no longer be a threat to their bottom line. Our citizens of Michigan deserve better than the grant of a waiver that only benefits the insurance industry and not the health care costs of most Michigan citizens. I don't think this waiver request is in the best interests of Michigan's citizenry and should be denied an exemption.

Maybe we should all pay premiums directly to hospitals across the nation, let them buy state of the art equipment and pharmaceuticals and finally treat the % that get sick --THEY'LL be equipped with state of the art equipment to and personnel to treat the % that really need treatment, and practice preventative medicine to avoid the need to charge $100 for a single band-aid to make up for bogus and padded insurance claims. It doesn't make sense to but our health into the hands of "bottom line" businessmen does it? I hear from doctors everywhere medicine is a "cookie cutter business" and decisions are no longer their, but the insurance companies have wrested away the true practice of healing and make the decisions over which tests and procedures are contraindicated (or allowed or covered)

Please, deny this unfair request. Insurers have no competition in Michigan. BC covers around 80% of the people. My premium here is similar to Illinois and Ca. but there medicines are covered, office visits are covered with a deductible, and they offer dental. For my $489./month I have no cover for mammogram, no eye exam, absolutely no meds, no preventive, and absolutely no office visits. This year I had a minor knee procedure and pre op visit was $430.!!! out of pocket. MI BS has millions and millions on a rainy day fund but never use it because they increase the premiums several times a year. This is disgraceful. Exactly what Pres. Obama was trying to fix. Why would insurance company executives deny spending 80% of our premiums on actual medical care or deposit what is not spent into consumer-usable accounts? The salaries of Michigan healthcare insurance industry executives will not be impacted and the profits of investors cannot be more important than the only reason that the industry exists: To provide healthcare to Michigan citizens. Do not waive any part of the Affordable Care Act. Thank you.

well, this is pretty obvious! The money should go back to the people in health care services, not for profit for a select few people who already have a luxurious standard-of-living...and there is no reason given why there should be a three year wait on this. Please give us one if it is urgent there should be a wait time. Thanks for serving the people!

Consumers constantly pay premiums monthly. Yet any liability expense for insurances demand full discloser from the patient. So continuing the rebates for 3 years is additional interest for the insurance companies. Maybe it should be the 3 year period, as long as the interest accrued is also returned to the consumers.

Health care should be a basic human right in a society such as ours. For as it has been once before famously stated : The true measure of greatness of any civilized society shall be judged by the humanity with which it shall treat its least fortunate. I sincerely hope that we have not yet descended to the point of a Darwinian survival of the fittest and to heck with the rest style of Capitalism. Health care is a basic human need and, therefore, a right (sorry to all you right-wing neanderthals out there!). If one is in the private health insurance business, you morally must make fullest the care of your consumers the priority. The shareholders' stake and emphasis on "scalping" for the sheer sake of a maximum profit must never be the bottomline

I want to see the affordable care act put in place and health care dollars to work for citizens ASAP. When a waiver is requested the first thing I wonder is who is getting money to submit the request? Or, is this another Republican prank to keep government from working FOR the people so that voters can be convinced that what they need is less government. This looks like another effort to concentrate power and wealth. "NO" to a waiver for Michigan(Michigan Insurance companies , that is!)

Dear Secretary Sebelius: RE: CMS-9989-P, Proposed Rule Regarding Establishment of Exchanges and Qualified Health Plans. I am writing to urge that the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services take action in finalizing regulations for the state-based health exchanges and the qualified health plans under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) to assure that women are made aware of the availability of insurance plan riders for abortion care and that ease of payment be facilitated. A single transfer of funds for payment of both the main policy and the rider should be permitted. The training of personnel (navigators) associated with the health exchanges must include information about women's health needs, and at least one navigator in each exchange should be a community or consumer-focused non-profit entity. Further, I urge the department to adopt standards that allow for a broad array of specialists and providers, including women's health clinics where women can obtain obstetric/gynecological care as well as family planning services. I also suggest that the department recognize that individuals in civil unions or registered domestic partners under state laws should be allowed to enroll. It will be important for the department to facilitate a strong oversight mechanism in the reviews of insurance rates, especially with regard to rates for abortion coverage. A strong prohibition against discrimination on the basis of color, national origin, age, sex, gender identity or sexual orientation is critically important. Women have suffered from discriminatory practices by insurers and, hopefully, the ACA will put an end to that. I am looking forward to a robust implementation of these and other safeguards and assurances for women under the ACA. Sincerely, Abby Harwood

Before the health care insurance industry gained the mantle of highest paid executives in the nation, insurers had low administrative costs of 5% - 10%. Today a few executives pocket hundreds of millions of premium dollars to prevent sick people from getting care. It is dispicable that Blue Cross of Michigan and other insurers are claiming that is would be a hardship to pay 80% of premiums to care for the sick. Please do not approve this waiver request. Michiganders need care - not rich helath care executives.

Insurance companies rack in billions each year in this state-premiums are skyrocketing without regard to actual people and their struggles just to have the basics. If they do not spend it it should be somehow returned. Or there needs to be a cap on premiums. This is a no brainer. It is no harder to clean up the insurance industry than it was for the govenor to (so called) clean up the FIA system. Give them three years for what. To reward them for their bad practices? I don't think so. If you are going to clean house, clean the entire house.

My wife's premium increased 47% ($212.97) for April, 2011 when she turned 55. The next month a 6% ($39.92) annual mincrease was added. We had no prior notice of the amount of the increase and had to find the additional $252.89/month. I complained to the State regulators. They agreed with BCBSM that they had no duty to notify us of this massive premium increase.
